Colonel Wetmore's Friend Accepts
Challenge—President's Son
Reported Ill.

KENTUCKIAN IN GOTHAM

MUST FIGHT OR RUN.

Louisville, Nov. 15.—Peter Arland, who assaulted Colonel Mow Wetmore the millionaire at the Planter's hotel in St. Louis Sunday night, will have to answer to Colonel John I. Martin, sergeant-at-arms of the national Democratic committee, who has forwarded the following: "In behalf of my friend, Colonel Wetmore, St. Louis, cowardly assaulted by you, I accept your challenge issued to him and will meet you on the field of honor at any time and place designated by you. The choice of weapons will also be waived in your favor."

PRESIDENT'S SON ILL.

New York, Nov. 15.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., passed through New York early today under the care of two physicians on a Federal Express bound for Washington. The conductor in charge of the car in which the president's son was berthed said he did not know how ill the young man was, or the cause of his trouble.

ROBBED IN NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 15.—Daniel Richardson, a well-to-do merchant of Brandenburg, Ky., was held up by highwaymen on Fourteenth street, between Tenth and Eleventh, avenue Thursday night, beaten and robbed of $350 cash, a gold watch valued at $100 and a diamond stud valued at $50. He named the arrest last night of Frederick Moore, a cab driver.

THE JUDGE IN A HURRY.

Frankfort, Nov. 15.—Judge-elect T. J. Nunn, of the court of appeals, is here preparing to remove his family to Frankfort.

POPULAR MAN MARRIES.

PADUCAH CONDUCTOR WEDS A CENTRAL CITY GIRL.

Mr. Alfred Tonks, the well known I. O. freight conductor, and Miss Lottie Metcalf of Central City were married in that city yesterday and arrived in Paducah last night to reside. Mr. Tonks is a popular young conductor and his bride is one of the most attractive and popular young ladies of Central City. They are at the boarding house of Mrs. Bailey on West Broadway. Their many friends will be pleasantly surprised to learn of the wedding.

STEAMBOAT WAR PROMISED.

A Nashville telegram says: A steamboat war in the lower Cumberland river trade is promised. The Mary Stuart, owned at Golconda, Ill., and the Henrietta, owned in Omaha, are to be run in opposition to the boats of the Itymau line. Captain T. G. Ryan of the latter line said today that if the opposition boats were sent in the river he would cut the freight rate to 5 cents per hundred pounds, and put them out of the business.

ONE PROPOSITION

Meeting of the Joint Committee and Telephone Managers Today.

The Independent Company Submits a Proposition—Other Company Not Ready.

ANOTHER MEETING SOON

The joint committee appointed at the meeting of committees from the Retail Merchants, Retail Grocers, Bar Association, Dentists and Medical Society met the managers of the two telephone companies, Messrs. A. L. Joynes, of the East Tennessee and Ed Ashbrook, of the People's, at 11 o'clock this morning for a conference relative to the move to use only one system, or to secure rates that will enable them to use both for what one now costs.

The members of that committee, as stated yesterday, are Messrs. W. E. Cochran, U. S. Walston, Dr. H. T. Rivers, Dr. C. E. Whitesides and Attorney J. C. Flannery.

The meeting was very brief, and nothing definite was done. Mr. Ashbrook, of the People's company, it is understood made the committee a proposition, but Manager Joynes, stated that he would have to submit the matter to the officials of his company at Nashville, which he will do at once.

The proposition made by Manager Ashbrook was not given out.

It will likely be some little time before anything else is done. It will take several days for Manager Joynes to hear from his company, and after he is ready to report, he will ask for another meeting of the committee mentioned above, and after the latter has heard both questions, it will report back to the general committee composed of committees from the merchants and professional men, and if necessary these sub-committees will report back to the association they represent for further action.

When asked about the move today, representatives of one company stated that he did not know of a single city that has or had two systems where the merchants managed to use only one system. He said if merchants need a telephone at all, when the new system is put in they will have to have two telephones, according to his judgment.

POLICE COURT

Will Jones Was Told He Could go,
There Being no Charge.

A Few Fines Assessed for Misdemeanors by Judge Sanders.

Will Jones, the hostler arrested a few nights ago on suspicion of being the man wanted in Terre Haute, Ind., for embezzlement, was brought before the police court this morning and after being questioned was told he could go. He answers the description sent here by the Indiana authorities, and was found at the Terrell livery stable.

He denied this morning ever even being in Terre Haute, declaring that he came from Memphis. As there was no evidence against him, and no word had been received from Terre Haute, he was told he could go.

Jones, however had told at the livery stable that he had been in both Evansville and Terre Haute before he came here.

Adolph Holland, Dee Baird and Butler Pondaw were charged with creating a disturbance at the "Round Top," on North Sixth, last night. Holland was fined $20 and costs, Baird $1 and costs and the other was dismissed.

Fannie Wilson and Hazel Brown of West Court street were fined $10 and costs for breach of ordinance by riding down Broadway at breakneck speed.

Mr. V. Lee Bolton, of the Michael collar and harness shops, city, left at noon for Cincinnati to attend the buggy and harness exhibit.

WEEK'S NEWS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD.

Clearings this week were $627,476
Same week last year $472,514
Increase 155,962

Business with the banks is very good. The demand for money is very heavy on account of the tobacco crop movements and banks are rediscounting.

Tobacco is moving very freely and money should be plentiful soon. The season has been a very good one and tobacco has come in with a rush.

Work on the iron furnaces is progressing very satisfactorily. Coke and iron ore are beginning to arrive and preparations for blowing in the furnaces in the next few weeks are being made.

Wholesale trade is very active in most all lines. Christmas trade is demanding much attention and gives promise of being the best in years. Groceries, dry goods, whiskey and queensware houses report good business.

The canning factory is still running and is now canning pumpkins.

Gov. Durbin Coming Through

A special train bearing Governor Durbin, of Indiana, and party will pass through the city this afternoon some time over the Illinois Central from Louisville to Mississippi, the exact hour not having been stated. Governor Durbin goes to join the Roosevelt party to hunt bear in Mississippi and will be through Paducah again on his return.

FACTORY INSPECTION

Mr. Ludwig Finds a Number of Children Working.

Left Instructions With Managers and There Will be No Prosecutions.

State Factory Inspector Ludwig called on County Judge R. T. Lightfoot this afternoon and reported the number of cases he had found where children under the age of 14 were working. He has found in all the forty-two places he has inspected thirty-three cases where children have been permitted to work when they are not of the lawful age.

"These cases we must overlook the first time," Mr. Ludwig explained, "for we feel that the operators must not be perfect as to the law, and that it is impossible to get things running smoothly at first. At all places where we find dangerous machinery we suggest that it be encased to prevent a possible accident. If it is a dynamo or set of cogs that a person's clothes might catch in we suggest that it be encased. Stairs we suggest to be improved by a railing, and in this way we improve the safety of the machinery."

"Now this is my first inspection here, and I have left a circular with the law and the requirements with all factory operators, and there will hereafter be no excuse for a violation of the child labor law; and if, on my return, I find any violation, it will be reported to the grand jury."

Mr. Ludwig says he may return within a few weeks to see that things are being run correctly. He has no specified time for making inspections, but runs in when he thinks it is needed.

Another conspicuous fact that has come under Mr. Ludwig's observation is the ignorance of many of the factory employees. He tests their reading

SURPRISED HOBO.

He Thought New York Had Fast Trains.

But He Was Astounded at the Time Made By the Illinois Central.

There was a passenger aboard the special train bearing President Theodore Roosevelt, which passed through the city this week, who got more than he bargained for in the way of a ride.

This passenger was a young "hobo" who boarded the train at Kentucky street, Louisville, as it was leaving that city. He saw him three cars and a baggage coach and thought it was a local and decided to "shake" the town, as he expressed it. The train was moving slow and the tramp had no trouble in boarding the baggage car and when this was accomplished settled down to await the time an inviting station would be reached. He had been riding through New York, his home, on the big roads that make a mile a minute, but many stops and when the special began to make time, his hair stood on end. No stop was made until Paducah was reached and he fell off the train in double quick time. In relating his experience he said that he heard the trains in this state were slow but he was d— if he wanted to tackle any more. The tramp did not know that he had been riding on the president's special until after it had pulled out and he heard the station men talking about it.

abilities with his hooks and has found that nearly half a hundred employees of the forty-two factories are unable to read or write.

Officers Harlan and Clark this afternoon arrested John Humphreys, white, for drunkenness.

CARRIE THE SMASHER

Mrs. Carrie Nation Writes to Manager J. E. English of Paducah.

Says She Will Visit Relatives in Hopkinsville About Dec. 5 and Wants to Come Here.

WAS DISAPPOINTED BEFORE

Manager J. E. English yesterday received a personal letter from Mrs. Carrie Nation, "the smasher," who was booked here for November, but cancelled, as follows:

Boston, November 12

Dear Mr. English: Just met my manager. He spoke to me of how badly you were disappointed at my cancelling the date made without my knowledge. I was tired out with travel and called off all dates for a while. Now I want to come to Kentucky in December and I wish to go to Hopkinsville, Ky. I will give you the dates from the 1st to the 5th, the last one being in Hopkinsville, where I wish to stop for a visit with some relatives there. Please let me know if this will suit you. Write me care James E. Furlong, Rochester, N. Y.

N. B.—You to guarantee me $150, I pay my own expenses. The continual travel exhausted me and the wreck on the day I was to speak in Paducah was a fearful shock as well as getting some bad bruises. Hoping to hear all things satisfactory, I am your loving home defender.

(Signed) CARRIE A. NATION.

Manager English is unable to arrange a date at that time, owing to other attractions, but may secure one later. As the "home defender" will probably find plenty of work to do in Hopkinsville she may remain until she can get an engagement here.

CIRCUIT COURT

Motions Made for a New Trial in Damage Suits.

A Small Judgment Rendered on Account This Morning.

This morning the jury returned a verdict in the case of Nicholas Gunder against M. Rosenblatt in favor of the plaintiff, awarding him $214.15, the amount claimed to be due on account.

This morning at 10:35 the jury was given the case of T. B. Stone Lumber Co. against Tennessee Transportation Co., suit for $632 damages on lumber alleged to have been lost because of the failure of the defendant to fill a contract to move the lumber before a rise in the river, which floated the lumber away.

The defendants in the case of Martha Hamilton, Adm., against the J. C. railroad this morning filed reasons and motions for a new trial. The plaintiff was given a verdict for $2,000 yesterday for the death of Robert McManus.

The plaintiffs in the case of Norman Mykes and Co. against T. Herndon this morning filed motion and reasons for a new trial. The plaintiff was awarded $56.80 where it asked for $1,000.

The case of Baker against the Paducah Railway and Light Co. and Pace against the Paducah Railway and Light Co. were continued by agreement and set for the eighth day of the next term.

The case of Shipley against the Forked Deer Pants Co. was continued and set for the eighth day of the next term.

The case of F. G. Randolph, Adm., against Paducah Railway and Light Co. was continued and set for the seventh day of the next term.

The jury in the lumber case against the Tennessee River Towing company returned a verdict for the defendant.

Judge Husbands at noon discharged the jury and the equity docket will be taken up Monday.

TROUBLE IN CHURCH

German Lutheran Minister Declines to Resign.

The Congregation Somewhat Split up at Present—A Few Members Suspended.

PASTOR DECLINES TO TALK

An unusual and somewhat sensational state of affairs has recently, according to reports, developed in the German Lutheran church of Paducah on South Fourth street between Clark and Adams. Some of the members who were not satisfied with their preacher, Rev. J. H. Rupprecht got up a petition asking him to resign, but he declined to do it.

Rev. Rupprecht came here from near St. Louis, September a year ago, and is a quiet, scholarly gentleman, but it seems for various alleged reasons did not please some of his flock. Some say he is too strict, and some say that he is peculiar and others say he wants to "get them under his thumb." But whatever the cause dissatisfaction arose, and the petition was started.

Twenty-eight signed it. It is not known how many of the signers were "voting members," or heads of families who can vote, but two were "deacons," or officers who correspond to deacons in the Baptist and other churches. There are less than 40 voting members, and three or four hundred members of the church in all.

The petition, it seems which was sent to the synod, created quite a sensation in the church, and several meetings were held to settle it, but it seems to have refused to settle. Some of those who signed it afterwards appeared to regret it, and every time there was a meeting the members in favor of the pastor always had a majority and carried the day.

Finally a minister from the synod was sent here from St. Louis to smooth over matters but he is said to have failed. The upshot of the affair was that Monday nine of those who signed the petition were suspended from the church, it is claimed, and the remainder of the twenty-eight who signed the petition are under the rule of the church, which is said to practically mean suspension, until they withdraw their names from the petition.

One of the faithful who was ousted stated today: "We are simply going to stop our contributions until we get a new preacher. We are not talking of starting a new congregation as some have reported, as we think things will yet right themselves. We objected to the pastor because we did not like the way he wanted to rule us. He would not even permit the ladies to give entertainments and suppers to make money for the church."

A reporter called on Rev. Rupprecht this morning and asked for a statement from him relative to the case, but he said he did not desire to make any, and that those who were disowning the trouble were enemies of the church. He was told that the matter would be published as a news item and still declined to make a statement, saying that if anything incorrect was published he would make a public denial.

CERTIFICATES ISSUED.

ELECTION COMMISSIONERS FINISH THEIR WORK.

The election commissioners of McCracken county, Messrs. J. J. Dorian, Joe Randall and Sheriff Lee Potter, completed their work yesterday afternoon and issued certificates to the successful candidates in the last election.

No certificate was issued to Mr. Harry Fisher, who received a number of votes for city clerk, but the vote was counted and recorded, which the commissioners deemed sufficient. None of the three was in favor of issuing the certificate, one stating today that if Mr. Fisher is entitled to one, he can through the courts compel the board to issue it, and thus remove the doubt in their minds as to whether or not one should be issued.

Wednesday matinee and night—"Old Jod Prouty."

Friday night—"The Tide of Life."

Saturday matinee and night—"Uncle Josh Spruceby."

Monday night, November 24—"Al G. Field's minstrels."

Wednesday night, November 26—"Mrs. Brune in 'Unorna'."

Thanksgiving matinee and night—Grace Cameron Opera company.

Friday night, November 28—"Her Marriage Vow."

Saturday matinee and night—"Side Tracked."

There is no form of musical entertainment that appeals directly to the taste of so large a body of the public as the military band concert. And of bands there is apparently no end in the country, for while the general government does little or nothing to forward this particular form of musical art, private enterprise is not backward in the exploitation of the native article or the foreign importation. The most signal demonstration of the popularity of the military band concert can be observed in the history of Sousa and his band during the ten years of its existence. The organization is a perfect artistic ensemble of its kind, and has done more to promote the cause of good music throughout the length and breadth of the land than all the erudite symphony orchestras combined, for Sousa reaches the great body of the people who love music for its inherent attractions rather than for its classical aspects. Sousa seldom presents a concert program on which Wagner is not represented, and all the great lights of music find sympathetic interpretation at the Sousa concerts.

Sousa is at present engaged upon his twenty-first semi-annual tour of his band, extending from Maine to California. Late in December he goes abroad again for his third European tour. He will be heard here on Tuesday night at The Kentucky, when in addition to his great band Sousa will present two new soloists and will offer brilliant and popular program. The latest Sousa march, "Imperial Edward," which he wrote for King Edward VII, will be one of the most interesting novelties.

The Evening Post, Charleston, S. C., Oct. 2, says: The theatrical event of the early season occurred at the Academy of Music last evening in the appearance of Mrs. Brune in the title role of "Unorna." There was rather a slim attendance, but the audience was very appreciative. Mrs. Brune scored a distinct hit and received generous applause for her efforts. Her work was splendid. There were numerous dramatic situations with great possibility, and she amply filled the role. She displayed considerable versatility, when was required by the role. Possessed of great charm of personality and marked histrionic talent, she quickly gained the attention of the house and held it. She is a new star and has been little known to local theater-goers; on her next visit, however, she will attract a larger audience and will find that her appearance here in "Unorna" made many friends and admirers for her in Charleston. Indisputably she is one of the most promising young stars of the day and will yet make her mark upon the stage. Those who have read F. Marion Crawford's "Witch of Prague" recognized the play and could follow the action easily, as in the dramatized version the salient features of the novel have been preserved. There is nothing of importance in the book that has been omitted in the arrangement for the stage.

"Darktown's Circus Day," "The Whang Doodle Comedy Four," "Soldiers' Camp Glee," "A Festival of Parisian Melody," and ten top notch variety acts by Black Patti, the greatest singer of her race; John Becker, "The Alabama Blossom;" Bobby Kemp, "The Shining Light;" Mack Allen, "The Equipoise Marvel;" the Hills, "Champion Oak Walkers of the World;" Emma Thompson, "The Black Lily;" Leslie Triplett, "The Filipino Funster;" Muriel Ruggelt, "The Hoedown Buck Dancin' Wonder;" Sisters Turner, "The Tennessee Thrushes;" Slim Morgan, "The Elongated Comedians;" Sallie Greer, "The Indiana Nightingale;" Lizzie Garry, "The Unbleached Southerner;" James Read, "Parson D. Sue, Domineer;" Ed Greene, "The Chesterfield Comique;" Clementine Pratt, "The Essence of Ole Virginny;" May Lange, "The Louisiana Lasses;" Anthony Byrd, "The Black Edouard Da Rensselaer;" Will Cooke, "The Comic Cop;" Chas. C. Borgia and James Worles, "The Tyrolean Teasers;" and a Weber and Fieldlike ebony tiptoe chorus, are to be the features of the Black Patti Troubadour performances announced for an engagement Tuesday night, December 2, at The Kentucky.

Miss Henrietta Orosman, who will be seen at The Kentucky in this city this season in her big New York hit, "The Sword of the King," has had financial as well as other proof of her success in this play. For the first three weeks of her present engagement at Wallack's theater in "The Sword of the King" the receipts were just twice as great as they were for the first three weeks of her Broadway run in "Miss Nell" two years ago. This difference may be accounted for in part by the size of the theater, as Wallack's is much bigger than the Bijou theater, where "Miss Nell" scored sudden and phenomenal fame. "The Sword of the King" is in every sense Miss Orosman's greatest achievement. It is the most massive production she ever undertook and is unanimously declared by the New York press and public to be the most brilliant performance she has ever given, while its financial returns are far beyond those of any of her previous undertakings.

The most realistic storm scene ever presented on a stage is the sublime spectacle "Crowned With the Tempest," one of the features of the $10,000 first part of the Al G. Field Greater Minstrel. The spectator sits looking at a scene of sunlight and splendor, when dark clouds begin to gather and the rumbling of thunder is heard in the distance. The sky becomes overcast, the vivid lightning plays across the firmament and the wind increases in volume and force until the hurricane breaks in all its fury and the rain comes down in torrents. Then, passing on, the clouds commence to break away, and in all its gorgeous colors a beautiful rainbow spans the sky, this fading slowly away as the glorious sun once more breaks forth, sending to kiss with its last red glow the tops of the distant hills as daylight fades and the shades of evening approach. The mechanical and electrical effects used in this scene are the most complicated and expensive that have ever been employed in stage realism.

The Chattanooga Times of Wednesday says: "Murray and Mack." The magical words that filled the opera house to overflowing last night, with all the staid room taken. Those two gentlemen in themselves constitute a good evening's entertainment, but when associated with a strong cast, a good chorus, the beautiful costuming, the catchy dancing and all the special features the entertainment afforded an audience of the best in Chattanooga was hard to excel. Everybody knows Murray and Mack, and they need no description. Suffice it to say they were in their glory last night and kept the audience in a roar of laughter the whole time.

The patrons of The Kentucky will be entertained Saturday night, November 22, by the big comedy production, "Uncle Josh Spruceby." This popular play comes well recommended and will no doubt be received with enthusiasm here. The piece is staged, with every attention to stage realism. All the scenes are well mounted and acted. The startling sawmill scene is said to be the masterpiece of stage mechanism. Many specialties are introduced and the superb solo orchestra carried by the company all go to make this a very delightful production.

J. Cheever Goodwin, the author of the book and lyrics of "A Norman Wedding," which will be given here at The Kentucky on Thanksgiving matinee and night by the Grace Cameron Opera company, also wrote those two great successes, "Wang" and "Evangeline," besides "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" and many other musical comedies. The composer of the opera, William Forest, has two great successes to his credit also, "The Isle of Champagne" and "The Princess Nicotine."

Miss Genevieve Reynolds, the character woman of the Grace Cameron Opera company, which will present the latest comic opera success, "A Normandy Wedding," at The Kentucky on Thanksgiving matinee and night, was formerly a most valued member of the Empire Theater Stock company. She is said to be a most charming comedienne.

Miss Daisy King, the mezzo-soprano of the Grace Cameron Opera company, which has been secured by Manager English for The Kentucky on Thanksgiving, was last season a member of the Grand Metropolitan Grand Opera company, and in the part of Denise in "A Normandy Wedding" has an opportunity for the display of her superb voice.

Mr. Will J. Donnelly, in advance of Al G. Field, was in the city last night and states that Mr. Field is now able to be with the company and will positively be here with the biggest troupe he ever had. In Dallas, Tex., the show had the "Standing Room Only" sign out three successive nights.

"The Tide of Life" was the sensation of New York during its run there at the beginning of the season. It abounded in realistic incidents, in which electricity plays an important part. The proscenium in this city will be identical with that in the metropolis.

It is one of the best, if not the best, minstrel show ever seen in Lynchburg. Quinlan and Wall made a reputation last night that will always assure them capacity business.—Lynchburg News.

Otis Skieser will be here in "Lazarre" New Year's eve.

GOOD RECORD

JUSTICE LIGGETT HAS MARRIED OVER 100 COUPLES THIS YEAR.

Justice Thomas Liggett, the popular "marrying squire" of Metropolis, Ill., has married 103 couples this year already and expects to increase it to 125 before the first of January. Justice Liggett's fame has spread far and wide, and he is one of the most popular men in the Great Green. He is always to be found ready to serve the public, and the number of marriages at which he has officiated in past years runs into the thousands.

One thing about Justice Liggett is that every cent he makes by marrying couples goes to charity. In Metropolis he has built a pavement about a church and put up a handsome fence around a burying ground there with the money he has been paid for marriages.

TAKE pleasure in joining the large number of testators who have been cured through the use of Wine of Cardui. It is certainly a very remarkable curative agent, and while it is pleasant to take and mild in action it is very strong and positive in curative ability. Since early womanhood I suffered from extreme nervousness and seemed unusually sensitive to climatic changes. A slight cold or too great heat would upset me and headache and general indisposition would result. My stomach was easily upset and I would frequently have heartburn, sour stomach, and the heavy feeling you experience when you have indigestion. I was also irregular and had severe monthly pains, all of which showed me that I was entirely out of harmony with health. I naturally desired a change and doctor for several months, hoping for better health. I was however disappointed to find that the medicine afforded me no relief. I noticed your ad in the street car and I bought a bottle of Wine of Cardui on my way home and great was my joy to find that within a few days it brought me great relief. My food seemed to digest without trouble, and the headache soon disappeared altogether. I kept using it until I had taken five bottles and felt that I had never invested any money in my life which brought such great returns. Within two months I was like a changed woman. My aches and pains disappeared as if by magic and new life and activity seemed to course through my veins. I began to enjoy my life, long walks and exercise as never before. It is indeed gratifying to experience such a remarkable change in body and mind which perfect health brings, and believing that your medicine is well worthy of full confidence and endorsement I am glad to give it both.

Julia Britton

Young women cannot too carefully guard the monthly function. Women as a rule look upon this great function of nature as a trouble instead of a blessing. They seldom consider that it relieves the body of poisonous wastes and that a suppressed or a scanty flow is invariably a forerunner of sickness. Because Wine of Cardui perfectly regulates the monthly function hundreds of thousands of women owe their lives to it. Wine of Cardui as a regulator of the monthly function not only purifies the blood but it relieves weak and nervous women of troubles which doctors not only did not cure but do not often diagnose correctly. In thousands of cases of so-called "debility," "nervousness" and "tired, worn out feeling" Wine of Cardui by regulating the menstrual flow, has proven the remedy that was needed. If your doctor is doing you no good, secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui and take it in your home. It will cure you but you will only be one woman among thousands with the same experience. Remember Wine of Cardui cured Miss Britton. Accept no other medicine as a substitute. Give Wine of Cardui a fair trial and health will be yours.

A black and white illustration of a woman in a patterned dress lying down, surrounded by flowers and foliage. The woman is positioned in the center, looking towards the right. She has dark hair and is wearing a dress with a bold, dark pattern. Her hands are clasped in her lap. She is lying on a surface covered with a patterned cloth. To her left, there are large, dark, leafy plants. To her right, there are smaller, light-colored flowers. The background is a textured, mottled grey. The overall style is reminiscent of early 20th-century magazine illustrations.

The Week In Society.

Mrs. Campbell Flournoy's card party on Thursday afternoon was a charming elaboration of the Thanksgiving idea throughout and was exceedingly pretty and graceful in every detail. The attractive rooms were artistically typical of the season. The "Horn of Plenty" holding chrysanthemums hung above the doorway between the parlors. Pumpkins filled with the fall flowers were used as jardinières. Everywhere the autumn shades of red and yellow were used with brilliant effect. The first prize, an Indian plaque, was won by Mrs. Edwin Rivers; and the consolation prize, a pretty hunt, was awarded to Mrs. A. J. Decker. The delightful and elaborate luncheon was also, suggestive of the season and the color-motif. Many guests who did not play cards arrived later for the luncheon. Mrs. Flournoy's guests were: Mrs. M. E. English, of New York; Mrs. Leslie Samuels, of Boston; Mrs. Maudie C. B.

The Daughters of the American Revolution held a delightful social meeting with Mrs. George Thompson of West Broadway on Tuesday afternoon. Graphic reports of the Henderson convention were given by the delegates, Mrs. M. B. Nash and Mrs. Hubbard S. Walls. The convention was delightfully reviewed and its social, literary and historical aspects were variously presented. An interesting description was given of the hall where the meetings were held which was beautifully decorated and ornamented with some half dozen portraits of Revolutionary officers, all of whom have descendants now living in Honduras. especially notable was the portrait of General Kennedy, grandfather of Drs. James and Benjamin Letcher of Henderson, who once owned Uncle Tom, the slave made famous by Mrs. H. B. Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin." General Kennedy's daughter, Miss Nancy Kennedy, was

WORK FOR LOWER RATES.

The retail merchants and professional men of Paducah who are trying to solve the telephone problem cannot be blamed, perhaps, for wanting to manage with only one telephone if possible. It is extremely doubtful, however, if they will be able to accomplish anything along that line. The best thing they can do, in our opinion, is to inaugurate a move for cheaper telephone rates in Paducah. The people were led to believe, when the dual telephone system was being agitated in Paducah that rates would be reduced by competition. If they are to be reduced, it is time there was some evidence of it. The Sun opposed the dual telephone system because it did not believe it would prove satisfactory to the public, and foresaw just what these merchants, professional men and others see now and are trying to remedy, when it is too late. The dual system was adopted and the thing to do now is to make the best of it and secure low rates.

It is averred by experienced men connected with both telephone systems, and who have had experience in other cities, that the plan to get along with only one telephone will in a city that has two systems never be a success, even if it should be adopted and tried. It has never been successful in any other city where there were two telephone systems, and would hardly be here. The two telephone companies are here presumably to stay. They both say so, and it is reasonable to assume that they are. As a consequence, as long as both are here, both will have business, and this business will consist of putting in telephones and furnishing service to the public. And as long as they do this, some people are going to have one system and some another. As to which will secure the greatest patronage is a matter to be determined later, and one which does not bear on the present case at all. When some people use one system and others use the other, the merchants and others who transact business over the telephone, or have use for their telephone in business, will have to have both systems.

This being the case, it seems as if the most plausible effort to make is one that will secure lower rates. With rates sufficiently low, people who want a telephone may have both in their residences or business houses, and not be any the worse for the two systems except from the trouble of having to answer two telephones, which will be more apparent in business houses than in residences.

Thus far the promised reduction in rates has failed to put in its appearance, and unless there is a reduction a hardship will be imposed on the people. The service they are now getting is likely to be curtailed when the new company starts up, by some patronizing one out some the other, and if the rates are not reduced the public will be robbed instead of benefited.

Yontsey has probably made an confession. The Democrats are only preparing for next year's campaign, and this "confession" may be a starter. Yontsey had his trial and would have been convicted whether the perjured testimony had been introduced against him or not. The juries in the Goebel cases are intended to convict, and they do their work well. But Yontsey, even if he had anything to "confess," has waited too long. No one will believe him if he should confess. Even the Democrats would not believe him, although they might profess to do so. He has told his story under oath. If he didn't tell the truth then there is certainly no reason for believing that he would do it now. The Democrats are trying hard to stir up another political sensation, but it will fail flat. If the Democrats know anything they'd be only too glad to tell it. And not one of them has anything to tell except what he has heard that somebody else said.

Constantino Garcia, a Cuban, has about solved the problem of perpetual motion, and his way of living ought to be an ideal one, from the hobo standpoint at least. Owing to the red tape and strict immigration rules, he is a man without a home, and it is likely will have to be taken out to sea and unloaded, or carried to some isolated coast and marooned. Garcia went to New York on a ship from Omaha as a stowaway, but he was not allowed to land. The ship had to take him back to Havana, and there he was not allowed to disembark because he was a stowaway. He had to be taken back to New York, where the same performance was gone through with, and for four months he has lived a free and easy life between Havana and New York, with nothing to do but enjoy the sea breezes and ship's grub. At last accounts no satisfactory solution of what disposition to make of him had been reached.

General Young in his speech at Washington administered a deserved rebuke to the class of people and papers that have been abusing the American soldier, and because it was necessary in many instances to enforce severe and sometimes cruel measures against the treacherous savages of the Philippines, accuse him of inhumanity and dishonorable conduct. General Young knows, and most of the people who have criticized the soldier do not. Their pious commiseration with the murderous savages was based largely on ignorance, and an imaginary sense of humanity. The worst feature of the treatment of the American soldier is that most of the vilification directed against him has been from irresponsible persons and politicians, and has been for the most part to benefit some one politically at the expense of the soldier's good name.

A case has just been decided bearing on the issuance of bonds at Owensboro. Suit was brought, after $200,000 had been authorized by vote of the people for public improvements, to prevent the council from issuing them. It was claimed that the city did not have the requisite number of inhabitants, 15,000, to make the tax rate sufficiently large, but the court held that the ordinance stated that the population was over 15,000 and the court had no right to go behind this decision. The same principle would doubtless have held good in the late lamented injunction suit. The courts would have refused to go behind the act of the legislature declaring Paducah to be in the second class and ignored trivial technicalities.

Mrs. Eddy, at the head of the Christian Science cult, has sent out an edict that "Until the public thought becomes better acquainted with Christian Science the Christian Scientists, shall decline to doctor infectious or contagious diseases." The diseases include dander Mrs. Eddy's ban are as follows: Smallpox, yellow fever, cholera, scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria, chickenpox, mumps, typhoid fever and typhus fever. The order to cease usurping the place of doctors is about the most commendable thing the Christian Scientists ever did. They can probably cure the above diseases about as easily as they can cure a broken leg or a fractured rib.

Men must be scarce in Omaha. The chorus girls in the Liberty Belles have threatened to strike unless the management furnishes them with escorts to and from the theater. Their excuse is that they want protection from the "mashers" and the management has appealed to the society ladies of Omaha to act as chaperones to the girls. It is probable that if this is carried out, the girls will strike sure enough.

It is comical to note the presidential booms that break out intermittently among the Democrats. Take Gorman for instance. Wouldn't he make a pretty candidate and how long would it take to beat a man like that? The seat of president of the United States would be so large for a vast majority of the leading Democrats that they would get lost in it and not be found again for a generation or two.

It appears that St. Louis is not a healthy place for bootlers just now. It will be a long time before they can get in their graft again like they have had in past years. The juries that try the cases seem to be thoroughly imbued with an adequate idea of what is expected of them, as the offenders, no matter how much money they have, or how prominent, all get heavy sentences.

I's Kansas again! This time a judge has made himself famous, and probably started a begin towards Kansas, by deciding that a man may bury his wife alive. Disgraced husbands must not become excited, however, until they hear the rest. The wives have to be "hypnotized" before they are buried, and few men can hypnotize their wives.

There is talk of forming a combine of steamboats between Cincinnati and Cairo. They had better be forming a trust to produce something for the boats to run in. Even a little "watered stock" ought to help just now.

NO CAUSE.

EDWARD BARNHILL SHOT HIMSELF WITHOUT APPARENT REASON.

Particulars of the suicide of Mr. Edward Barnhill at the Tulse hotel, Nashville, yesterday, have reached the city since his brother here, Mr. Al Barnhill of the La Bella park stockyards, left the city yesterday afternoon for Nashville.

Mr. Barnhill was a stock buyer and went to the hotel night before last without baggage. He was well known and was assigned a room, and after eating breakfast yesterday morning retired to his room again and shot himself about 10 o'clock, as a pistol shot was heard then, but no attention was paid to it.

Later in the day a friend called and was sent up to the room, and when he failed to elicit any reply to his knocks entered and found the young man lying across the bed, his head in a pool of blood.

The deceased was about 35 years old and was a nephew of the late W. P. Barnhill, and resided in Paducah for a short time a few years ago.

LETTER RECEIVED.

PILOT COLE DEAD MANY DAYS, IT IS THOUGHT.

Capt. Mark Cole yesterday afternoon received a letter from Capt. Tom Reeder of Florence, Ala., giving further particulars of the well known pilot's death. He had started out in a canoe to learn the river by taking measurements, etc., and as no boats were running it was very lonely in that part of the river. It was stated that he was seen Thursday at Florence, Ala., and no more until the following Thursday, when his body was found. It was lying in the bottom of the canoe, with the head resting on a seat, as if the deceased had gone to sleep and been stricken with apoplexy or heart disease in that position. The supposition is that he had been dead since the previous Thursday.

The remains were buried at Smithsboro, fourteen miles below Florence, and will remain there until some time in the winter, when they will be disinterred and brought to Golconda for burial.

STRONG PROTEST.

PETITION TO THE WESTERN UNION RELATIVE TO THE FORMER MANAGER

It is understood that patrons of the Western Union Telegraph company in Paducah are preparing a petition to the company asking that former Manager Cobourn be taken care of. Mr. Quinsberry, the new manager, is a popular young man who is liked by everybody, and whose promotion is a source of gratification to innumerable friends, but the public seems to be very much displeased at the company's shabby treatment of Mr. Cobourn, who is turned out into the world after he has spent his life in the service and can do nothing else and learn nothing else. Many patrons even go so far as to threaten to boycott the company if it does not take care of the veteran manager. It is reported that Mr. Cobourn is to be pensioned, but no one here knows anything about it.

"Grape Nuts saved my life, and changed me from a nervous, sick, despondent woman to a healthy, strong and cheerful one," writes Mrs. Alice Riegel of Pontiao, Ills. "I had not been well for several years and I thought as did my friends, that 'my days were numbered.' My ill health was caused from drinking coffee, eating improper food and overwork in the school room; I had become very weak, tired and nervous and nothing I ate agreed with me. Medicine made me more nervous and impaired my digestive organs. "It was with difficulty that a neighbor induced me to try Grape Nuts and I liked it from the first with thick cream and sugar. I lived on it exclusively with Postum Food Coffee until my digestion was so much improved I could eat other foods. My friends soon noticed the improvement in my looks, and I am now healthy, strong and happy. I attribute the change in my health solely to the change of diet.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS BETTIE NAPIER CALDWELL

It is a sad task which our love has set itself, that of writing of our friend who has gone from us, though we know she has gone gladly to "enter into the joys of her Lord." She has gone from darkness to light; from sickness to health; from trial to triumph; yet still in our ignorance we reach out vain hands and mourn our desolation, forgetting her eternal gain.

She loved life, and filled with the joy of living, scattered kindnesses with a liberal hand. No transmuted's crucible could have found alloy in the gold of her friendship, so she drew friends around her in bonds that not even death could unbind. Young girls gathered about her eager for her affection, and sober age found in her ready response and sympathy. The friends made in youth found that neither time nor separation dimmed the luster of her memory, and sought her as affectionately as in the morning of their days.

Possessed of a bright wit and an inexhaustible fund of good nature, the hours in her company passed with flying feet, and we have stored away in memory many humorous sayings that will bring a smile to the lip and a tear to the eye when we recall the happy vanished days.

Sorrow and loss came into her life, as it too often comes to those who enter upon the high estate of motherhood, but it was sorrow and loss bravely borne, for it was loss that spoke to her of greater gain, and sorrow that heralded everlasting joy.

Her religious convictions were deep and unalterable; she burned the clear white light of her altar fire to the glory of God; and we have no doubt this light served to keep many a traveler on the dark road of life from wandering aside into the mire of indifference and doubt. It will be to the perpetual glory of her church that in her it has set one more star "clear-shining in the heavens."

TODAY MANY ARE OUT FOR QUAIL.

Today the quail law expires and the hunters can enjoy all the shooting they care to go in for.

Mr. H. C. Bronagh says that he has had a rush of business selling loaded shells and other sportsman supplies and thinks there will be about 50 local hunters out after the quail today.

Several parties left early this morning for the brush and hunters are scattered in every direction through the woods. Tonight Messrs. Walter Wilkins, Arch Bohannon, Henry Dicke and several others will go up Tennessee river for ducks in the gasoline boat "Doctor".

The sportsmen are after quail today but there are a few ducks to be found and some are turning their attentions to the latter game.

Miss Hallie Sheppard returned to St. Louis today at noon after a visit to Mrs. John Clark of South Fourth street.

Exclusiveness. In Womens Wraps

We have just received some more of the Monte Carlo and blouse coats that make this store exclusive this year. No other store is showing so great a variety of stuffs or styles.

Every day the express companies bring in more ladies' new garments.

Those swell black and tau blouse coats we had before lasted just two days. Today after a three weeks' wait a new supply comes in, in red, black and tan. This week at $15 and $18 each.

Many of our Monte Carlo styles are so choice that we can scarcely get enough to satisfy women who want to buy. On sale this week at $5, $7.50, $10, $12.50, $15 and $18 each.

An Unusual Bargain Event

Our sale of wool dress goods with choice of McCall's patterns free to each purchaser of dress goods continues. Not before during this season have you had the good fortune to get such dress goods values as these

The stock has been carefully gone through with and bunched into classes to be sold at the following low prices. The cheapest assortment 19c a yard; the next assortment at 25c a yard; then three other assorted lots follow at 40c, 60c and 80c a yard.

All black and colored dress goods from $1 to $1.25 are in the 80c lot. Each assortment is made up of extraordinary bargains.

Progressive Skirt Selling for Ladies

We are keeping not only up-to-date but ahead, leading instead of following. Our sales are climbing up each month. We could get much more for our skirts but we believe in a small profit and a large business.

Our $3.50, $4.50, $5, $5.50, $6.50, $8.50 and $9 skirts we find by actual comparison to be as good as the best we can find outside for $1 to $3 more.

Splendid Styles

A Great Line of School Shoes

Millinery

Mrs. Harboun has just returned from St. Louis where she bought a large lot of hats, birds, wings, plumes and other articles of millinery at less than half price. The benefit of this saving will be passed down to our customers. The goods will reach us about Tuesday.

We will sell loon, heavy black Amazon plumes at $3 to $5.00, which were $6 to $8. The Flop hats so popular this season will be sold at 65c.

Fine white beaver hats reduced to 75c. A large line of children's caps and Tam O'Shanter hats at about half price—some less than half price. It will pay you to look our line over as early as possible, before the plumes are all gone.

Did It Ever Strike You?

IT HAS at last struck a great number of Paducah people that we are giving the best shoe values of any house in the city. 'Tis true, too.

We started this business in our own humble way a few years ago, and by dint of constant efforts to find the best shoe values for our customers; by our zealous efforts to satisfy in every detail or refund the money; by our keeping everything one could expect in a first class shoe store, we now boast of the most rapidly growing business in this city. Just keep your eye on us.

Meanwhile, listen: The best popular price shoe made is our own special for men—made on lines laid down by us and costing more than any like price shoe made. Our price

COLORED RAILROAD EMPLOYEE NEARLY KILLED YESTERDAY.

Bob Smith, colored, an employee of the Illinois Central at Dyersburg, Tenn., narrowly escaped being killed yesterday while at work repairing the track.

Smith and several companions were repairing a broken rail and Smith was shoving a tie under the steel when a companion accidentally struck him in the head with a large, heavy maul. Smith was rendered unconscious and was for a time in a serious condition. The injury, however, will amount to no more than a scalp wound, very painful but not serious. The wound was dressed by a local surgeon.

By rounding out the years Smith gets fat.

COAL ADVANCES.

THE PRICE DOES NOT BENEFIT THE DEALER, HOWEVER.

Today coal advances in price again but the dealers declare it is of no benefit to them.

Yesterday lump was selling at 13 cents per bushel and nut at 12 cents, but today lump brings 14 and nut 13 cents. In speaking of the advance one dealer said: "We have been instructed by the mine operators to advance the price one cent today, as we will have to pay more. This is not to better the retail dealer for we make the same profit on the coal that we did when it was selling for 10 and 11 cents. I do not know that the increase benefits the miners or the operators but it certainly does not benefit the dealers." Coal is scarce here but there is no need for alarm. There are several dealers who have more than enough to last them through the next two months but some have a hard time getting their coal. There is no hard coal here, but very little is used.

NEARING THE END.

FACTORY INSPECTION WILL SOON BE OVER.

Factory Inspector Ludwig is nearly through with his work in Paducah and will finish up the first of next week. He has inspected nearly all the factories here and finds them in excellent condition. He intended to start in on Mayfield this week but decided to wait over until next week. After his return from Mayfield he will finish what remains to be done in Paducah and will leave for Princeton and other cities on the Illinois Central line that he did not visit coming down.

Neither Manager Quisenberry nor former Manager Cobourn have learned whether the Western Union intends to take care of Manager Cobourn by giving him another place.

NEW MANAGER.

MR. SAM QUISENBERRY IN CHARGE OF THE WESTERN UNION NOW.

Mr. Sam Quisenberry, the new manager of the Western Union Telegraph company here arrived today from Memphis and took charge. He succeeds Mr. J. R. Cobourn, for thirty years local manager.

Mr. P. G. Kern, of Louisville, arrived today to check up Manager Cobourn's business for the American District Telegraph company, which has a messenger service here.
